

B2B 7-Day Evaluation Seat — Playbook

For Jess + Josh · Effective 2026-05-21

The policy in one sentence

The only trial we offer is one (1) full-access evaluation seat for seven (7) days, available only to corporate L&D buyers and institutional partnership prospects pre-purchase. No D2C trials, no cohort trials, ever.

When to offer the trial

Situation	Offer trial?
Institutional prospect (university, accelerator) at stage ≥ 3 (Contacted) and showing real interest	Yes
Corporate L&D buyer at stage ≥ 3 with title VP+/ Director+ at a funded company	Yes
D2C prospect asks "can I try it first?"	No. Send them to mbarock.com/sample (3 free lessons).
Someone forwarding a friend who's "thinking about it"	No. Same — point them to sample.
Press / journalist writing a story	Comp seat at our discretion , NOT this trial. Different track.
Existing $499 member	N/A. They already have full access.

How to offer it (script for Jess)

When a corporate/institutional prospect asks to evaluate before buying, paste this:

Happy to set you up with a 7-day evaluation seat — one decision-maker (you, or whoever's making the call), full course access for seven days. We do not offer this for cohorts or general public — it's specifically for evaluation by the decision-maker on the buying side.

A few specifics so we're aligned: - One named individual, not a list of evaluators - Capstone certification, Adytum Operator Pipeline access, and

Operator Dossier export are excluded — those are reserved for paying members - Seven calendar days from the day the seat is issued - We track usage during the window and discuss next steps together at day 5

Want me to set it up? If so, send me the email address and full name of the person who'll be evaluating.

How to provision a seat (Josh's playbook)

1. Receive the named-individual email + full name from Jess
2. In the admin console at `learn.mbarock.com/admin/`, add the email to the `trial_seats` table (Supabase) with:
3. `email`
4. `started_at: now()`
5. `expires_at: now() + 7 days`
6. `deal_id`: the HubSpot deal ID this trial belongs to
7. `restrictions`: `['no_capstone', 'no_adytum', 'no_dossier_export']`
8. Update HubSpot deal:
9. `trial_status = trial_active`
10. `trial_seat_email` = the email
11. `trial_started_at` = today
12. The admin console enforces the restrictions client-side (hidden CTAs for the trial seat) AND server-side (Supabase RLS check on `capstone_fields` insert/update + `adytum_submissions` insert + dossier export RPC)
13. Day 5: Jess sends a check-in email (template below)
14. Day 7 at midnight: Supabase scheduled function flips the seat to expired, HubSpot deal `trial_status` auto-flips to `trial_expired`

Day-5 check-in template (Jess)

Subject: Day 5 of your MBA Rock evaluation — quick check?

Body:

{{First Name}},

You're halfway through the evaluation window. Quick check — how's it going? Anything you wish you'd seen by now that I can point you to before the seat closes?

If MBA Rock × {{Institution / Company}} is the right move, the natural next step is a 20-minute conversation to scope the partnership and walk through the term sheet. I have these slots open: {{slots}}.

If it's not the right fit, totally fine — just let me know and I'll close the loop on our side.

— Jess

When a prospect tries to negotiate "more time" or "more seats"

Ask	Response
"Can we extend the trial?"	"Trials are seven days specifically because we found longer windows don't increase signal — they just delay the decision. Happy to schedule the scoping call instead."
"Can we add three more evaluators?"	"The seat is for the decision-maker. If a wider evaluation is what you need, we can do a paid pilot — one team for one cohort at a discounted rate. Want me to scope it?"
"Can the trial roll into the contract?"	"We can't credit the trial against the license fee — but I can lock in the founders'-rate per-student pricing for the first 12 months as part of the term sheet."
"Can we have a free pilot cohort?"	"No free cohorts. Paid pilot cohort is on the table — discount applied, real users, finite duration. Want me to scope it?"

What we DON'T say

- "free trial" — never
- "no-risk" — never
- "X days free" without specifying the B2B context — never
- "test the course" / "test-drive the course" — never
- "preview cohort" — never

If a D2C prospect calls it a "trial," correct gently: "We don't offer trials, but you can play the 3 free sample lessons at mbarock.com/sample — that's the closest equivalent."

Last updated: 2026-05-21 · Claude · better.together.branding@gmail.com